

MUMBAI POLICE

It has come to notice that every day many gullible citizens are falling prey to new types of cyber frauds. One such type of fraud is when the citizens face some issues relating to Internet based services or the purchases made by them on E-Commerce websites and look up for the so called helpline numbers of these services/E-Commerce websites online.

2. It is seen that in many instances the citizens do not actually visit the genuine/authentic websites and instead pick up these numbers from a preliminary search on Google. Eventually, many citizens are duped when they call up these numbers in various ways.

3. The Cyber Crime Police Station of Mumbai Police in its relentless efforts to safeguard the citizens from falling prey to any such attempts of cheating and fraud by the scamsters, has compiled a list of 186 telephone numbers [given below], which are being currently used by the scamsters for defrauding the innocent citizens in the aforesaid manner.

4. It is advised that the citizens should not call up these numbers [see list below] and look for genuine helpline numbers from the authentic websites of these services/websites.
